

Tuesday | November 7, 2017

7:30 am Registration opens | Breakfast (served on the terrace)

8:30 am Welcome and opening remarks

Opening session, introductions, and program overview: Monica Jain

9:00 am Capturing growth opportunities in today's changing seafood marketplace:
Who will be the winners?

Perspectives: Brad Barnhorn, Winona Capital; Andrew Beebe, Obvious Ventures; Richard Stavis, Stavis Seafoods; Manuel Gonzalez, Rabobank. Moderated by Gabe Kleinman, World Positive and Obvious Ventures

10:00 am Break

10:30 am Innovations in seafood from around the globe – short pitches

16 finalists present 90-second pitches, followed by audience voting for the top competitors.

11:30 am Wild fisheries and innovative fish feeds – long pitches

6 finalists present 3-minute pitches, each followed by 5 minutes of Q&A with judges.

Judges: Kate Danaher, RSF Social Finance; Tim Fitzgerald, Environmental Defense Fund; Mitchell Presser, Freshfields; Dan Pullman, Fresh Source Capital, LLC.

12:30 pm Lunch (served on the terrace)

1:30 pm The potential of aquaculture: Can it really meet the food needs and desires of our growing populations, if production issues are resolved?

Perspectives: Ben Amick, Winrock International; Scott Nichols, Food's Future; Amy Novogratz, Aqua-Spark; David Tze, Tze Venture Search Fund. Moderated by James Wright, Global Aquaculture Alliance

2:30 pm Break

3:00 pm Aquaculture production and related technologies – long pitches

6 finalists present 3-minute pitches, each followed by 5 minutes of Q&A with judges.

Judges: Kate Danaher, RSF Social Finance; Brock Mansfield, Salmon Innovation Fund; David Tze, Tze Venture Search Fund; Mike Velings, Aqua-Spark

4–6:30 pm Networking reception (appetizers and drinks served on the terrace)

Wednesday | November 8, 2017

7:30 am Registration opens | Breakfast (served on the terrace)

8:30 am Are profitability, data sharing, and transparency compatible in the seafood sector?
Perspectives: Phil Gibson, Resiliensea Group; Elena Saputo, Rabobank; Richard Stavis, Stavis Seafoods; Kate Wing, the databranch. Moderated by Clare Leschin-Hoar, freelance journalist

9:30 am Traceability, transparency, and fishery technologies – long pitches
6 finalists present 3-minute pitches, each followed by 5 minutes of Q&A with judges. Judges: Norman Chen, 6 Dimensions Capital; Jenn Pryce, Calvert Social Investment Foundation; Dan Pullman, Fresh Source Capital, LLC; Julia Sze, Arabella Advisors.

10:30 am Break

11:00 am Changing seafood supply chains – long pitches
6 finalists present three-minute pitches, each followed by five minutes of Q&A with judges. Judges: Norman Chen, 6 Dimensions Capital; Manuel Gonzalez, Rabobank; Jenn Pryce, Calvert Social Investment Foundation; Mike Velings, Aqua-Spark

12:00 pm LoveTheWild – what’s happened since Fish 2.0 2015, plus outlook for the future
Jacqueline Claudia, CEO and co-founder, LoveTheWild

12:15 pm Lunch (served on the terrace)

1:30 pm The future of Fish 2.0: accelerating change and growth in seafood
Monica Jain, Fish 2.0

1:45 pm Town hall (open mic)

2:30 pm Announcement of competition winners

3:00 pm Event closes